ACHC and Pennsylvania Homecare Association Renew Partnership

Cary, NC- Accreditation Commission for Health Care (ACHC) announces the renewal of its partnership with Pennsylvania Homecare Association (PHA), a state trade association representing nearly 700 organizations that provide care and support to patients in their homes.

“ACHC and PHA share a commitment to advocating for patients and consumers alike,” said Ryan Ragan, ACHC Business Development Manager. “The continuation of our partnership allows PHA members to demonstrate their dedication to enhancing patient care and safety by achieving and maintaining compliance.”

The partnership with ACHC also allows PHA members to continue to receive special pricing on ACHC Accreditation services for home health, hospice, and private duty programs, as well as discounts on ACHCU educational resources that help healthcare providers prepare for ACHC Accreditation.

“We are proud to work with ACHC and look forward to our continued partnership,” said PHA CEO Teri Henning, Esq. “We know that our members provide the highest-quality care to Pennsylvanians in their homes. The accreditation process enables our providers to solidify their commitment to quality by demonstrating their ability to meet regulatory requirements and standards established by a recognized accreditation organization.”

PHA members provide medical and personal care; physical, speech, or occupational therapy; and end-of-life care for patients with terminal illnesses. PHA is a one-stop resource for home care needs. With a member-centered focus, the association champions efforts that range from advocating on behalf of patients and consumers to interpreting and developing regulations and legislation and exploring healthcare needs and business strategies.
