ACHC Introduces HealthTrainU™ and HR-Trak™

Cary, NC - ACHCU, a division of Accreditation Commission for Health Care (ACHC), has acquired MED U and EmTrak. These platforms, a learning management system and an employee tracking system, will officially be known as HealthTrainU™ and HR-Trak™ going forward.

The addition of these platforms will build on ACHCU's suite of educational and training services, resulting in an enhanced learning experience for healthcare providers as they prepare for and maintain their accreditation, licensure, and more. "This acquisition is ACHC's next step in expanding our programs and services. It brings us one step closer towards being a full-service accrediting organization, while simultaneously providing a sustainable solution for current MED Group/MHA customers," said José Domingos, President & CEO of ACHC.

"This is a tremendous opportunity for current ACHCU clients, as well as the customers coming from MED U and EmTrak," said Greg Stowell, Senior Manager of Education and Training at ACHCU. "We are dedicated to continuing to provide user-friendly, industry-relevant education materials, in addition to the excellent customer service the industry has come to expect from ACHC. We are excited about the potential these platforms have to provide useful, on-demand training and personnel record tracking."

While these platforms provide excellent functionality today, they will undergo enhancements over the next few months to better serve industry professionals and ensure the best customer experience. Providers can follow as improvements are made by visiting <https://www.healthtrainu.com> and <https://www.hr-trak.com>.

"On the horizon, we will enhance the current educational materials offered, and expand the educational materials to address needs in both the Pharmacy and Home Health and Hospice industries," Stowell said. "Our goal is to be the single source of all accreditation and regulatory required education, located in a customizable platform."

ACHCU is focused on each provider's success, serving as an educational partner in accomplishing accreditation, regulatory, and quality goals. ACHCU assists healthcare providers in filling gaps in resources or expertise with a customizable suite of educational services. Whether a provider's business is a new startup or a well-established operation, ACHCU aligns its tools, trainings, and educational services to meet a provider's specific needs. At ACHCU, the goal is about more than helping healthcare providers achieve accreditation; it is also about helping create a strong foundation for better patient safety and care, as well as sustainable business growth.

ACHC is a nonprofit accreditation organization with CMS Deeming Authority for Home Health; Hospice; Renal Dialysis; and Durable Medical Equipment, Prosthetics, Orthotics, and Supplies (DMEPOS), with a Quality Management System that is certified to ISO 9001:2015. We were created for providers, by providers, to deliver a better accreditation experience. Since 1986, ACHC has offered a collaborative and consultative approach to accreditation, empowering providers to enhance patient care through service-specific standards and industry best practices.
