ACHC and IAHC Renew Partnership to Support Providers

CARY, N.C. – Accreditation Commission for Health Care (ACHC) announces the renewal of its partnership with the Indiana Association for Home & Hospice Care (IAHC), an organization that provides leadership, support, and resources for home-based care providers in Indiana.

“Our continued collaboration with IAHC reinforces our mutual commitment to enhancing quality of care and improving patient outcomes,” said Susan Mills, ACHC Senior Program Director. “IAHC is dedicated to ensuring providers have essential resources and information to support their success.”

“ACHC has been a valued partner of the Indiana Association for Home & Hospice Care for many years,” said Evan Reinhardt, IAHC Executive Director. “We are happy to keep that partnership going as we continue to connect our members to all that ACHC offers.”

The renewed collaboration allows IAHC members to continue receiving preferred pricing on ACHC Accreditation for home care, home health, hospice, and palliative care services and ACHC Telehealth Certification. Discounts are also available on select resources offered by ACHCU, the education division of ACHC.

About IAHC

IAHC is the voice of Indiana's home care providers. Our mission is "to advance the cause of home care and hospice through leadership, collaboration, advocacy, and education." We represent all of home care: traditional home health nursing services, home-based and inpatient hospice care, and nonmedical services that allow patients to remain independent in their homes.

IAHC also hosts an annual conference for home care providers. For more information on IAHC and the conference, visit iahc.org.

About ACHC

ACHC is the nation's top provider of accreditation for home health and hospice agencies. ACHC offers a wide range of accreditation options for home-based care providers and has CMS deeming authority for home health, hospice, and home infusion therapy services.

ACHC develops solutions for healthcare providers worldwide and remains committed to delivering a customized, collaborative accreditation experience.
