ACHC and BetterRX Form New Partnership to Support Hospices

CARY, N.C. – Accreditation Commission for Health Care (ACHC), the nation's top hospice accreditor, announced today it is partnering with BetterRX, a technology provider committed to advancing the quality of end-of-life care.

"ACHC is excited to partner with BetterRX to improve the standards of hospice care," said Susan Mills, ACHC Senior Program Director. "Together, we are committed to ensuring quality care for patients by supporting our numerous hospices."

"In partnering with ACHC, we are committed to elevating the standards of hospice pharmacy services around the country," said Ben Clarke, CEO of BetterRX. "This collaboration enables us to ensure that every patient receives the timely and compassionate care they deserve, while also empowering hospice agencies with the tools and data necessary to optimize their operations related to pharmacy."

The new collaboration allows BetterRX customers to receive preferred pricing on ACHC Accreditation for hospice and palliative care services. Discounts are also available on select resources offered by ACHCU, the education division of ACHC.

About BetterRX

BetterRX is a leading hospice pharmacy services and technology provider, serving agencies across the country. With BetterRX, care teams can easily select medications, secure approvals, digitally order directly from pharmacies, and track order statuses. BetterRX's technology analyzes real-time data and provides recommendations to optimize medication utilization. This helps improve nurse and prescriber ordering habits, enhance operational efficiency, and lower overall pharmacy costs.
